Dear Colleague,

Enclosed is the prospectus for the 1981 Deuel Conference on Lipids, which will be held at the Carmel Highlands Inn from March 11 (evening) through March 14, 1981. Note that the meeting place will be the same as last year's conference. The format of the conference will also be similar.

This year's conference will focus upon the role of nutrition and specific dietary factors upon lipid absorption; plasma lipid, apoprotein and lipoprotein changes; the composition of tissue membranes; and the cellular synthesis and accumulation of lipids, including prostaglandins. The program committee believes that this is one of the first Deuel Conferences in recent years to focus upon the area of nutrition. In developing the program it was apparent that many scientists are now centering their research efforts in this field.

I enclose an application form for the meeting. This form may be reproduced for application by any of your associates who were not included on last year's mailing list. Would you indicate if you have current research data which you would like to describe in a brief presentation from the floor.

Please return the application to me before January 31, 1981.

Sincerely,

William E. Connor
